

NUCOR STEEL

Hertford County, North Carolina

Newkirk Environmental, Inc. performed various environmental services for the Nucor Steel Plate Mill in Hertford County, North Carolina. The plate mill is a $400 million facility located on 1000-acres adjacent to the Chowan River in northeast North Carolina.

Services included:

- ❑ Prepared an Environmental Assessment under N.C. Environmental Policy Act and received Finding of No Significant Impact from N. C. Department of Environmental & Natural Resources;
- ❑ Presented Environmental Assessment for the project at the public hearing, held by N.C. DENR;
- ❑ Applied for and received U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Section 404 Individual Permit and Section 10 Permit, State 401 Water Quality Certification and N.C. Division of Coastal Management Major CAMA permit;
- ❑ Prepared the wetland mitigation plan for 7-acre wetland enhancement/creation area.